DETAILED ACTION

1. Amendment received February 23, 2005 has been acknowledged.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1 and 3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Cornett et al. (5,216,612).

Cornett et al. discloses the method of retrieving a part of a production machine with the steps of retrieving machine part information from a mass-storage medium having the machine part information of the production machine recorded thereon to data processing equipment (via parts manual file 7 that is maintained in a central location; col. 14, line 2-12), inputting retrieval conditions into the data processing equipment (col. 14, line 63-col. 15, lines 15), and ordering a part corresponding to the machine part information depending on the retrieval condition (col. 14, lines 13-41). Cornett further discloses the step of the data processing equipment being a numerical controller for controlling the production machine (col. 5, line 63 - col. 6, line 17).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Cornett et al.

Cornett discloses the structural elements of the claimed invention, but fails to explicitly disclose the data processing equipment being a portable personal computer, however, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the personal computer of Cornett (col. 5, lines 36-46) to have been a portable personal device, since it has been held that making an old device portable or movable without producing any new an unexpected result involves only routine skill in the art.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-3 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

7. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP
